Tons of Rock Crash Down
on Workmen in Pennsylvania Tube.

Two men were crushed to death, a third hurt so he died later and four seriously injured in shaft A of the Pennsylvania Railroad tunnel work.

ings at Thirty-fourth street and Avenue A this morning when a mass of rock weighing twenty tons or more became dislodged from the roof of the tunnel and crashed on the gang beneath.

The roar of the falling mass was distinctly heard on the surface, and scores of people in the neighborhood hurried to the shaft mouth. It was necessary to call out the reserves of the East Thirty-fourth street and East

The collapse occurred several minutes after a heavy blast had been "fired" in the workings. The fourteen headers had been ordered back in the tunnel by

As soon as the smoke of the blast cleared away the gang rushed forward with their crowbars and began attacking the mass of rock dislodged by the blast. They were working at a point almost directly under the avenue when

The crash came. Without a second's warning the entire roof of the tunnel over their heads slid down on them, crushing out the lives of a negro and an Italian.

The rest of the gang owe their lives to the fact that the tunnel is wide at

At this point—almost fifty feet—and as the heading gang was distributed about this space the full force of the collapsed mass only caught two.

The rescuing gangs had hard work to reach the dead and injured and took several minutes' work with crow-bars before they dug out the first sufferer. The scene at the mouth of the shaft resembled that about the entrance to a coal pit when the news of a disaster has spread.

Most of the men working in the tun-

USED CAR AS FORT TO ESCAPE A MOR

After they had run over and fatally injured a small boy at Main and Willow streets, Long Island City, late this afternoon, Jacob Fox, a motorman, and Hugh Dinsberger, a conductor, looked

The boy is Joseph Tintotche, six years old, of No. 154 Main street. He was so hanged beneath the wheels that it was necessary to elevate the car on jacks.

He was hurried in an ambulance to St. John's Hospital, where it was said he could not recover.

The car was of the Dutch Kills line of the New York and Queens County Traction Company. The child was playing and evidently did not see the car before he was knocked over. The policeman stopped as soon as he could.

and the passengers ran out, leaving the car empty. When the crowd became threatening the motorman and the conductor went into the empty car and barricaded it.

Engineer Brown, of the United Engineering and Contracting Company, said that the accident was caused by the loosening of an overhanging shelf, gneiss, and was unavoidable.

The dead Italian was later identified as Alphonso Salpate, of No. 561 First

The dead negro was later identified as the Mouque as Joseph Farrell, thirty-nine years old, married, of Jersey City. At 2 o'clock this afternoon Winchance Defalisha, one of the injured men, died of his injuries in Bellevue Hospital.

WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Last year at this time I suffered with a tremendous itching on my back, which grew worse and worse, until it spread over the whole body, and only my face and hands were free. For four months or so I suffered the torments of the damned, and I had to scratch, scratch, scratch, until I bled. At night when I went to bed things got worse, and I had at times to get up and scratch my body all over, until I was as sore as could be, and until I suffered excruciating pains. I did not know what it was, and resorted to a number of blood purifiers, using at times also Cuticura Soap. They told me then that I was suffering from eczema. Then I made up my mind that I would also use Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them according to instructions, and very soon indeed I was greatly relieved.

continued until well, and now I am ready to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one who suffers as did your obedient servant. Mrs. Mary Metzger, Sweetwater, Okla., June 28, 1905."

TORTURING, DISFIGURING

Humors, Eczemas, and Itchings

Cured by Cuticura

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c, Ointment, 50c, Resolvent, 50c. (In form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 50c.) Sold by all druggists. For single set often free. Putter Bldg and Chem. Works, St. Louis.
